

DIY BLESSING JAR

Our shelves are lined with jars of peanut butter, jars of pickles and jars repurposed to hold that most precious ingredient - sourdough starter. Add another jar to fill with your summer blessings. That first slice of watermelon, the solstice, seeing a firefly - write them on scraps of paper and fill your jar. Just like those tomatoes you stored, these blessings can give you a jolt of sunshine when winter returns.

